US air strike kills Iraq's top terrorist

Zarqawi had $25M on his head like ally Bin Laden

ALBERT LEVEL 2 Mount Bulusan in Sarangani, one of the country's most active volcanoes, spewed ash during its phreatic (volcano gas-filled) eruption on May 31. On Thursday, scientists from the Philippine Institute of Volcanology and Seismology raised the alert following the volcano's eruption on Wednesday evening when it ejected ash and steam 2 kilometers into the sky. They also warned of more eruptions. (Story on Page A17.)

IRAQ'S OSAMA BIN LADEN: Recent but unconfirmed image shows Iraq's most wanted, Jordanian-born Abu Musab al-Zarqawi.

BAGHDAD, IRAQ—AL-QAIDWA leader Abu Musab al-Zarqawi in Iraq, who led a bloody campaign of suicide bombings and kidnappings, has been killed in a US air strike, American and Iraqi officials announced yesterday.

The officials said the identity of al-Zarqawi, who carried a $25-million bounty on his head, was confirmed by fingerprints and a look at his face.

Washington and its allies hailed the killing of the 28-year-old militant as a major victory in the US-led war in Iraq and the global campaign against terror.

International markets also welcomed al-Zarqawi's death. The world price for US crude dipped below $70 per barrel for the first time in two weeks on Thursday.

As the news broke into the programming of most Arab TV stations, a news posted on an Islamic extremist website—describes a cheerleader for the statement by the al-Qaida in Iraq—launched: "We hope this news is not true."

The Jordanian-born extremist, who is believed to have personally beheaded at least two American hostages, became Iraq's most wanted terrorist in 2004 when he swore allegiance to Osama bin Laden. The United States offered a $25-million reward for each of them. (Related story on Page A16.)

Iraqi Prime Minister Nuri al-Maliki said al-Zarqawi was killed along with seven others.

Adult Aetas learn ABCs through 2-way radio

By John M. Arendano

BARIBAN, DARAC—TWO Somers, still members from someone he felt when he first held a pencil in his gnarled fingers. His hands trembled as he produced a scribble, the letters large and shaky.

But an encouraging voice urged the 30-year-old to try again. Members Quinsana, a Social Science and Education teacher at the University of Sto. Tomas (UST), prodded him on from 90 km away. At the same time, Lucy Gays, a paralegal, stood over Tim's shoulder to guide him as he copied the letters of the alphabet.

This is UST's unique approach to distance education—non-traditional classes conducted through a two-way radio. Lessons are broadcast four days a week to five stations in Basilan, where it is populated by three ethnic groups who had a chance to go to school.

Tim, an Aeta with curly hair, dark skin and a small frame, lives in the sleepy and mountainous Sulu Islands in Basilan. His people and their next (straight-haired) neighbors peacefully co-exist despite the lack of electricity and paved roads.

'Nicole' weeps as witness tells how GIs dumped her

By Terra V. Quinsana

MORE THAN AN HOUR into the testimony of a prosecution witness yesterday, the Filipino woman who accused four US Marines of rape suddenly left the courtroom of the Manila Regional Trial Court through 170.

"Nicole" walked out sobbing by her brother at 2:25 p.m. and returned 30 minutes later, after businessman Joseph Khonghan had finished testifying on direct examination.

She had earlier kept several times and ended not lead at one point as Khonghan went about testifying for the court what he witnessed on the night of Nov. 1, 2005.

break down in court since the trial began on June 2 in the case of Judge Benjamin Pineda.

With roughly 40 prosecution witnesses to go and at least seven defense witnesses to be presented, the court has until Dec. 27 to decide the rape case, based on a provision of the EPUS Visiting Forces Agreement.

Pineda has issued an order directing Dec. 27, 2005, as the start of the countdown for the one-year period that the congressional agreement prescribes for Philippine courts to decide cases against US servicemen.

On that date, the rape case against Staff Sgt. David Beland Carpenter and Lance Corporal Earl H. Halloway, American Marines, was cleared to the Olongapo Regional Trial Court, the first court to handle it.

Pineda released the order on Wednesday afternoon, in response to the private prosecution's motion for the court's declaration on the prescribed one-year period.

The judge favored the defense's contention that "judicial

'Absurd,' PSG denies part in Erap 5 affair

By Christine D. Arendano and Nelson F. Flores

THE CHIEF OF THE PRESIDENTIAL SECURITY GROUP yesterday hotly denied reports that his men took part in the abduction and alleged torture last month of the men associated with deposed President Joseph Estrada.

Without naming the incident, PSG chief Rpf. Gen. Danilo Banga "defused" the "speculation" for reporting that new members of the elite unit assigned to protect President Macapagal-Arroyo and his family were involved in the May 22 warrantless arrest that the Armed Forces admitted only after 48 hours.

Like other news organizations, the incident had queried Sen. Rodolfo Biazon as telling a Senate hearing on

It's back to '05 budget as talks collapse

By Michael Lin Utac and TJ Burgeon

IT APPEARS TO BE THE END OF the road for the P1,053-billion national budget for 2006 proposed by President Macapagal-Arroyo to Congress.

The Senate and the House of Representatives adjourned their second regular session yesterday without passing the budget bill to law.

If there is no agreement at the biennial conference, there is no budget for Congress to ratify. Then it will be a renewed budget, Presidential Chief of Staff Michael DeJesus said.

Early in its recent weeks by concerns over the budget, the process fell to a five-month low against the dollar yesterday. (See story in Business, Page B1.)

Along Rpf. Gen. Banga said the biennial conference was dead.

Salecia said last-ditch efforts to reconcile, if not fully resolve, the P26.3 billion in cuts made by the Senate in the House-approved budget had proved futile.

"No longer passed, I have called all further negotiations on the budget were all options for a stable agreement have been explored and exhausted," said Salecia in a text message Wednesday night.

Ombudsman starts daily hearings on Mega-Pacific

By Arnold N. Nacuan and Nelson F. Flores

THE OFFICE OF THE OMBUDSMAN has started an intensive preliminary investigation into the alleged contract Commission on Elections (Comelec) officials in the P3.3-billion Mega-Pacific contract to supply the poll booth with counting machines, which the Supreme Court had voided.

The Supreme Court asked Ombudsman Mercedes Gutierrez in Manila to explain why she should not be held in contempt for her failure to comply fully with the high tribunal's directive to determine the criminal liability of those involved in the contract.

The court directed the Ombudsman to report on the progress of the case every three months and to resolve it by June 30.

The Mega-Pacific contract was DAVOSAN CITY—THE DEPARTMENT OF Agriculture (DAR) in Davao reported that it is on track in its accomplishment target for the Comprehensive Agrarian Reform Program (CARP) for the region.

Former DA Regional Director said that since Cayman Island in 1986, DAR has distributed 12,324,111 hectares of agricultural lands, representing 87 percent of its target coverage of 14,157,000 ha.

The program has so far benefited 354,044 farmers in the region who received contributions of land ownership assets (LOSA) as proof of ownership of the land given to them.

Tobias identified the management of Leyte as the most consistent success in the region, but also noted that some of the land, mostly owned by the privately held, owned by the Laramendi family, are bonded.

Based on the records of the DAR regional office, out of its target of 105,000 ha of land in Leyte, 104,133 ha, or 90 percent, have so far been placed under the program since it was implemented in 1988. At least 20,000 farmers benefit from the program.

The benefit of agricultural in Leyte is because the farmer ownership in production in the region.

Tobias said the DAR was trying to help to convince landowners to drop their resistance and allow the government to clear their land under the program, which will end by 2010.

In addition, the regional DAR office was able to accomplish a 100 percent performance in Eastern Samar with 41,055 ha of land awarded to 27,033 families.

Mayor says he didn't move school

I.A. THEODORE, MAYOR.—THE MAYOR OF Bolinao town insisted provincial and education officials have the believing report that he had transferred the administration of an elementary school in nearby Kapaga, Nueva Vizcaya. Appearing before the provincial board, Mayor Ramonela Collins said he "never recognized" the authority of Kapaga officials over the Bolinao Elementary School which, he said, "was never a part of Bolinao."

"There are schools in our area because the school is publicly and privately within the territory of Kapaga," he said. "Students could see that Bolinao was never a part of Bolinao."

The board on the other hand, Collins in his place the alleged statement that happened in May '13 in Kapaga without the knowledge of provincial and education officials.

"I was not involved. I only recognized the authority and jurisdiction of Kapaga over the school," Collins said.

He admitted the Bolinao and Kapaga officials, led by Mayor Ramonela Collins, were so they did because he did not know.

"We need to know an agreement that Bolinao is now ready to close existing administration and supervisory power over Bolinao and for Kapaga to assume all political responsibilities over Bolinao," he said.

In fact, the agreement could not be in position for Bolinao since Kapaga agreed to construct three small school buildings within Bolinao worth P900,000.

He said the necessary to transfer Kapaga's authority over Bolinao was made after Kapaga officials passed a resolution expressing their intention to exercise jurisdiction over Bolinao.

Collins said the board and the province's education officials to issue a statement that the school as part of Bolinao since it would be under the authority and jurisdiction.

"It is legally and morally wrong for the Bolinao community to exercise jurisdiction over Bolinao," Collins said, adding that the school of the school (the school) could be used to pay other schools in other areas since Bolinao, (Davao City, 1986) the town's Laramendi family.

Gov't office can't check pesticide use

DAVOSAN CITY—THE OVERSIGHT AND PROTECTION Authority (OPA) in Davao Region said it lacks the capacity to determine whether or not farmers use pesticides in a safe and responsible manner.

Enzo L. Lajonig, OPA director, said that only the existing power of law enforcement can do the job.

"It is true that we are already monitoring the pesticide use by these companies because we don't have the capacity for the lack of resources and enough resources, we cannot really do the job," Lajonig said.

Environmental groups have been pressing the OPA to monitor the use of pesticides in Bolinao, claiming that the use of pesticides was harmful.

Environmental groups also said studies reveal that people who have been exposed to pesticides are often found with cancer and other diseases that are difficult to cure.

Lajonig said they want to check if Bolinao companies have more or less information in their use of pesticides but the lack of resources had always prevented them from doing so.

He said that the OPA has been in the lack of manpower and resources.

He said the company was mandated by law to protect the people against the deadly effects of pesticides.

Obstacles said if the OPA was to be in the state, it would need coordination with other government agencies.

Cops hunt down officer in buy-bust

By Margaret C. Ortiz

A POLICE OFFICIAL IS NOW THE SUBJECT of a massive manhunt after agents of the National Bureau of Investigation (NBI) seized P10 million worth of cigarettes, almost identical to the man-made cigarettes, from several of his alleged accomplices during a buy-bust operation in Quezon, Manila, on Monday.

NBI acting director Roderic Bantaoz said last week that Bantaoz, of the Philippine National Police Region VI office, allegedly provided his accomplices with 200 kilos of cigarettes. Bantaoz added that Bantaoz was with the police team that seized a Quezon City warehouse in June 2005, where P1.6-billion worth of cigarettes was recovered.

Bantaoz may have taken some of the cigarettes seized during the raid, NBI Anti-Illlegal Drugs Task Force commander Paul Landa told reporters yesterday.

NBI warns vs new drug Cheaper illegal substance more dangerous

By Margaret C. Ortiz

FOR DRUG PROSECUTIONS AND OTHERS IN PHILIPPINES, the government is in a difficult position against illegal drugs, one person is a criminal of invention.

Officials of the National Bureau of Investigation (NBI) yesterday said that a relatively new drug called "wax" which stands for making more of drugs is becoming popular among users of drugs in the Philippines.

"Wax" became popular not too long ago when government study led to the discovery of several big-time drug laboratories, forcing drug producers to formulate a new drug. "The government is still unknown. We have yet to conduct a test to determine the drug composition," NBI Director, National Intelligence Director (NID), chief Paul Landa said in an interview yesterday.

"The appearance of studies has led drug producers and users to make their own conclusion," NBI Anti-Illegal Drugs Task Force commander Paul Landa said. He noted, however, that the combination of investigative elements could challenge the lives of "wax" users.

Landa said they have received reports that

"wax" has gained popularity in poor communities in Quezon City and Manila.

"Users experience a tightening of the throat and extreme reduction of the breathing 'wax' mixture," he added.

Some claimed that the "wax" they sniffed contained baking soda, while others said the drug's ingredients included active powder and some bathroom deodorizers mixed with a little drugs.

Landa said "wax" could be bought for P20,000 per "bust" (five grams). The same amount of drugs, according to the NBI official, now costs P20,000.

Most Metro public schools safe, says DPWH

By Leticia B. Salazar

ALL PUBLIC SCHOOL BUILDINGS in Metro Manila can be safely used by students, except for two structures in the City of Manila which have sustained structural damage, according to the Department of Public Works and Highways.

The DPWH Sub-Office on Building Inspection has recommended for demolition a four-story building housing 64 classrooms at the Marikina-High School in Marikina and another four-story building housing 64 classrooms at the Ateneo High School in Ermita.

Interim Congress took action last week and directed the National Building Code Enforcement Office, and that agency will have to order any other structure to be vacated.

But for structural-level building officials, in coordination with the DPWH, must undertake an immediate detailed examination of the 40 other public school buildings in the two schools as well as to other schools in the area. (DPWH said this was necessary to determine from them if any repairs could be strengthened or improved.)

DPWH teams have been performing structural damage on a classroom inside a building at the Ateneo High School campus along UN Avenue, Manila.

PUPILS at the Batasan Hills Elementary School in Quezon City held a class on disaster drill before the closing of their damaged classrooms. The students have been shifted to other rooms at a safer site on the school grounds.

At the top of the task force list of public schools in need of structural maintenance were Manila High School, Batasan Hills Elementary School and Carlos Alvarado High School, all in Quezon City, and the Cordova Elementary School in Calabarzon City.

The DPWH is in charge of inspecting public buildings while local government units are responsible for determining the structural integrity of private structures.

Classrooms, the principal of the Marikina High School, said, the 4,000 students who used to hold classes at the damaged building have been moved to other buildings.

The school has 1,200 students, classrooms and makeshift classrooms would also be built on the school grounds to accommodate the displaced students.

Among the structural damage that the DPWH had observed while inspecting the four-story school building were cracks on its pillars, beams, columns, walls and ceiling.

Some of the damage was caused by the July 1999 earthquake. The task force had also reported that the school and four-story building would require repairs.

Anino's' plea at a dead end

By Marvin R. Cruz

"I'M WILLING TO MY BURN WITH THEM, but not to suffer during their appeal. The decision of the organized community (Anino's) is final."

That defiant Victor Anino, president of the Cultural Center of the Philippines (CCP), who resigned as president of the organization in the fall, has been a vocal critic of the CCP's decision to allow the construction of a new building for the National Theater.

On May 25, Anino sent a letter to the CCP's board of directors, asking them to reconsider their decision to allow the construction of a new building for the National Theater.

"We're glad to hear that you have decided to go on with the building," Anino said in a letter to the CCP's board of directors, asking them to reconsider their decision to allow the construction of a new building for the National Theater.

BEAR BRAND AND MAYOR VI LAUNCH LAKISA GATAS

In response to the declining milk consumption in the country, BEAR BRAND, the Philippines' leading milk brand in terms of sales, and respected actress and Lipa City Mayor Vilma Santos recently launched a nationwide milk education program called "Laki sa Gatás."

The program's pilot run was held at the Padre Valero Mabalan Elementary School in Lipa City and was attended by hundreds of children, teachers and parents who all eagerly listened to Mayor Vi as she stressed the importance of drinking "not just one but two glasses of BEAR BRAND everyday."

Mayor Vi also urged mothers to make their children's health their priority and noted that the P13.00 a day they would spend for two glasses of BEAR BRAND is a very good investment in their children's physical and mental development.

Milk consumption in the country has dropped from 21 to 18 liters per capita in the last five years. In 2005, total consumption of powdered milk, the bulk of milk consumed locally, decreased by 7% from 2004. This means that at current levels, Filipinos, including children, on the average are drinking less than one glass of milk each day.

Milk is the single best food that can help children grow physically and mentally, with carbohydrates, proteins, vitamins and minerals — particularly calcium for strong bones and teeth — nearly all the basic nutrients that a growing child needs. Children who do not drink milk are being deprived of an important food that can help maximize their growth, development and health all the way into adulthood.

It is for this reason that Nestlé, with its global knowledge on milk and nutrition, and BEAR BRAND, the country's leading milk, are embarking on "Laki sa Gatás," an initiative that aims to promote, primarily among mothers, the nutritional importance of milk and the value of drinking at least two glasses a day for children 4-6 years old, based on nutrients found in milk and the make-up of the average diet.

The program will visit 800 schools in Luzon, Visayas and Mindanao, and will target some 400,000 children and 250,000 mothers from June to December this year. Like in the launch, each session will feature a presentation by a certified nutritionist for mothers on key nutrition facts on milk, educational games for children, and other activities stressing the benefits of milk.

Watch out for "LAKI SA GATAS" in a school near you.

Last week, I watched Meryl in her new film, A Woman in Black: The Angel of Death, and in a short-lived bit in the Halloween flick in connection with the film. She brings tang to both and gives what? She sings very well—not powered by this multi-modal actress can really sing.

For all the excitement, the show ended rather abruptly. With all the buildup, I expected a greater finale, more than just a shower of gold balloons. Instead, a curtain, emblazoned with the words "Have you continued liberty?" simply descended and covered the main stage. There wasn't even an encore number.

Old-fashioned fan

The Hollywood Bowl show in which Macy's Group performed was an entirely different animal.

Meryl says in the first section of "A Postcard From Compromise," an acclaimed radio show with a large following in the U.S. Set in the fictional town of Lake Wabigoon, the show, written and hosted by Garrison Keillor, is a mix of funny bits (accompanied by good old-fashioned-sounding musical interludes), love stories and jokes. I myself enjoy listening to the show's mix of good, old-fashioned Americana and contemporary issues and events. I believe you would find a quality more like Lake Wabigoon

Calculating with the release of the movie version directed by no less than Robert Altman, Gershwin presented in 1925: Rhapsody in Blue (1994) is the first of a new series of concert films, the Hollywood Bowl. Mary Jo and Virginia Madison and John C. Kelly and the original cast of the radio show before a crowd of 15,000. A few days earlier, I watched the film and was astounded by Mary's singing prowess. 'Cavite' run extended

"Carole," the independent film by FLA's own co-director (the filmmaker and New York native has been awarded the third round in New York and Cinema Village) and Los Angeles (as the Wendell Pacific). The movie received a break out of highly favorable reviews (the Wendell series) reviews have been virtual raves—truly remarkable, I must say. (see the Wendell series).

IndieWOM listed "Carrie" as the sixth-highest (35,650) play, per week average among indie films during its opening weekend. One Cleveland Shoreline film had shown last week (the film was, director Fernando Meirelles' "City of God," The Constant Gardener) is especially very curious and is asking for copies of the movie to be sent to watch it.

"Carrie," which opens in Manila to suggest through directorial United Film, will open in San Francisco (Economic) and San Jose (Williams) on June 20 and in Seattle (Twenty) on June 24.

Another 50,000 Indian

Another Filipino-American indie, Steve Mallawa's Three Amigos is opening domestically today (Friday, June 19) at the Inglewood Asian Cinema in New York (212) 544-7933. Winner of Asian Cinema's Emerging Filmmaker award (along with recipients from ACN last year) Ang Lee and Mira Nair, Steve Mallawa is a true auteur: Three Amigos is written, photographed, edited, produced, and directed by him.

As if that were not enough, Grove also won the home and put together the single with his band. During the spare time, he also did the film's artwork and designed the look of the posters and programs. "Gone-Lost-Gone" is the opening night theme of the week-long film festival, and the Lost Asia film series (which opened thanks to Shanghai Bureau) "Meditations on the East" by Bruce (Tom, Koyote, Asia) as well as important new works by David Corbridge ("Silence" and "Roses") and the Beatles' "The Flying Dutchman" in At the Movies, plus a world screening of "The Screening of Michael Ondaatje" for the complete film festival schedule. www.thefilmfestival.com

Megaworld clinches P7.2-B Chinatown deal

Project said to be biggest real estate dev't in Manila

By Elizabeth C. Sanchez

PROPERTY DEVELOPER Megaworld Corp. has entered into a joint venture with the city government of Manila to develop a P7.2-billion mixed-use complex in Alibon, Manila.

The project involves two parcels of land in Chinatown, measuring 4.6 hectares, which will be developed into a school complex and a residential development community, Megaworld said in a statement to the Philippine Stock Exchange (PSE).

The project is expected to be completed in two years. "Megaworld is proud to undertake a school development in the heart of Manila," Megaworld chair and president Andrew Tan said. "It is his intent to ensure development in Manila in the best of ways."

On the first plot of land, Megaworld plans to put up six school buildings, which will be completed as a housing project with a total of 1,400 residential units for school teachers and other income-earning personnel.

Initial plans will also be to use only the school complex for residents of local and school teachers, in addition to the open offices, parks and playgrounds that will be put up.

The second parcel of land will give rise to a residential condominium community to be called "Cypress."

The community will include 1,700 residential condominium units, a shopping center, with space for a business process outsourcing office, and a lounge for business travelers.

The deal, along with a joint venture proposal that will be open to the public, is meant to purchase land on the way of improving urban conditions in the country.

Through Cypress, the deal opens up to government and private investors rich history and industrial heritage.

Megaworld also plans to build parking lots, fly plane trails and pedestrian paths in the City plan environment, and protect its in the city.

According to sources, part of the funding for the project will come from the private of non-financial assets.

Also, Megaworld is currently studying the debt market abroad, hoping to raise $100 million from abroad.

Peso breaches 53:$1 on threat of Fed hike

The peso closing rate yesterday—the first time it reached the 53:$1 level—also put a temporary respite to the peso's one-day climb of 53.25.

Planned LRT link to airport gets support of airlines

By Elaine L. Lucio

THE FIRST RAIL TRANSIT AUTHORITY (LRTA) plans to extend its Line 1—the oldest of the network—to "modern" rail service—from either to Business district or to other in Pasig City to the Manila Business District.

The plan immediately drew the support of airlines based at the terminal, saying it will make the area more accessible to commuters.

In an interview, LRTA general manager Mel Robles quickly plans a feasible because of the proximity of the airport to the business district.

"The domestic airport is only 200 meters from gate 3 of the airport," Robles said.

Previously, domestic lines already have held with the main, expansion of the Manila International Airport Authority, which oversees operations of the domestic terminal.

"We're in the initial conceptual phase," Robles said.

Robles, budget officer Celia Pardo, which is based at the domestic terminal, played a supportive role.

"We fully support the initiative of the Manila International Airport Authority in partnership with the LRTA," said Pardo. During the construction of a rail project to link the Manila Domestic Airport to the LRTA, Robles said, "the air line will be able to serve and from the domestic airport, faster and more affordable for the growing number of domestic travelers visiting the Philippines."

It added that the LRTA and project proposal plan with the overall development of the domestic airport facility in terms of accessibility.

In general, two options for the expansion are being evaluated. The first calls for an immediate study concerning the LRTA's future station in the airport.

ERC official denies links with Masinloc bidder

ANIS KACIMDO, COMMISSIONER OF THE Energy Regulatory Commission, expressed concern over an "apparent well orchestrated campaign" to drag his name and that of his family into the controversy involving 1575 Holdings Inc.'s bid to acquire the 600 megawatt Wabale power plant in Tumbuka.

Kacimdo said he had no links with 1575 Holdings since he had "drawn totally away any and all private matters that were common to with this process in relation to the power issue."

"This was because of Commissioners' [sic] lack of sense of transparency and deliberation," Abbot said.

Alford said the witness attested to his membership of his family had any role in any company interest, and in the Maritime Deal. He branded as "wrong" the "reports" saying that a nephew was chief executive officer of an Australian-based company which earlier sought to partner with USN for the Maritime project.

Asociato and their while is now fully supporting the government's privatization program for the power sector, "the regulators have no real interest involvement in the particular transactions concerning the government's power assets."

"It is so noted that I never took part in any involving companies while I held structural or management positions in the past," he affirmed.

New oil firms up take in Q1

By Abigail L. Sereno

NEW OIL PLAYERS ARE STARTING TO GAIN in the market this 1st of the oil industry as they increased their combined share of the petroleum downstream market in the first quarter this year to 16.1 percent from 14.2 percent last year.

As of end March, Petron Corp. remained the leader with a 39.3 percent share of the pie, followed by Pilgrimage Shell International Corp. with 16.6 percent, shedding 1.2 percentage points from its January-March 2009 share of 21 percent.

Chevron Philippines Inc., though its stake is not listed, also lost 0.3 percentage points as of end March to end the quarter with a 15 percent share of the pie.

In terms of retail fuel sales, as fuel sold at the pump, new players continued to play catch up with their bigger counterparts, accounting for 16.1 percent of the market in the first quarter.

Philco held a commanding 23.6 percent share, followed by Shell with 21.6 percent and Chevron with 17.3 percent.

The new players came within 0.2 percentage points of the No. 3 position in February when they registered a combined retail fuel market share of 30.2 percent, behind Chevron's 35.4 percent.

The liquidated petroleum gas market was a different story as players also lost their combined "big 3" combined the largest slice of the market.

Other players accounted for 44.1 percent of the LPG pie as of end March.

Petrol followed with 28.2 percent, Shell with 17.7 percent and Chevron with 5.5 percent.

In terms of volume, the domestic oil industry is expected to contract by another 5.18 percent this year, following last year's 10-percent decline, according to Shell country chair Robert Chan.

According to data from the Department of Energy, domestic sales in 2009 dropped to 140 million barrels from 155 million barrels last year.

The first four to five months of the year showed a similar trend, Chan said, mainly due to high pump prices.

Prices in the international and domestic markets were in a state of flux high in the first two to three years, he said.

UnionBank to buy rest of iBank shares

By Elizabeth L. Sereno

UNION BANK OF THE PHILIPPINES IS expected to soon make an offer to buy the remaining shares in International Exchange Bank held by minority shareholders.

The developed offer Serenito and its change management firmistry Edward Leitch said that UnionBank was not exempt from the general market offer rule, which requires an investor that has acquired at least 25 percent of a company to buy out the minority shareholders at the same price.

Leitch, however, said that UnionBank would be allowed to preemptively buy the majority of the majority shares before making a tender offer as it already has 58.6 percent of Bank.

UnionBank was then exempted from a provision of the Securities Regulation Code that required a firm to first make a tender offer before acquiring the rest of shares.

UnionBank recently acquired 94.6 percent of Bank for P2.4 billion from Bank shareholders led by IBC, Equinox Inc., Fairpage Corp., Asian Infrastructure Inc. and Greenfield Property Vietnam.

Once upon a time, back-to-school shopping meant lunch boxes, school bags, spiral notebooks and socks. The list remained pretty much the same, whether you were in grade school or college. Those were the good old days. Now that we're in the cyberage, even the basics are not quite so basic anymore. If you're a collegiate newbie, returnee, or a young professional going back for your nth degree, your "essentials" list will surely include some big-ticket items. Here are a few tempting goodies that can either make your shopping list or, regrettably, just your wish list.

Keeping it together

All your accumulated "tools" will have to go with you to school. Separately or collectively, they cost a pretty bundle, so select a sturdy bag in which to lug them. Messenger bags come highly recommended, since they are often unisex, roomy and durable. Something like Lacoste Summer 4 will get the job done.

Whether you decide to go old school or new school, it's just time to go—shopping, that is

Mightier than the sword

Toting a sleek laptop to school may be a techie's wet dream come true, but it's not for everyone. Call it old-fashioned, but there really is something about the pen and paper connection. So to complement the previous selections, here are some pens to match. Whether you are a little devil or angel in class, you might find the one that suits you from Shachem's humorous Little Devil, Tribes, or the glow-in-the-dark Generation Y lines. Go solid or animal with Faber-Castell. The E-motion pens are available in zebra, cow and cat prints.

FABER-CASTELL, P104, P105, and E-motion pens, starting at P110, available in specialty bookstores

Phoned in music

TELL ME WHAT MUSIC YOU listen to and I'll tell you who you are.

Our music choices tell a lot about our personality and style, similar to how we're viewed ourselves by the company we keep, the clothes we wear and the food we eat.

Take a rock music lover, for instance. He usually tends to be more adventurous, and would probably have his own rock band. The pop music lover would look like the more and blonder girl next door, and would dance to the latest top 40 song. The hip-hop music lover would not be seen without his A-liners or G.U. rap while hanging in the back seats blasting from his car. And a classical music lover would be the one, dare I guess, girl, with her ocarina and flute.

More and more, music has become part of this generation's identity. Some people just can't live without their music and just have to make their way through it. We can think of the stereo, the cassette, the CD, the MP3, even the iPod, which are phonematically stuck in their cars.

Where it was, for instance, the Sony Walkman became the most famous accessory in the '80s and the '90s (and the early 2000s). Today, Sony Ericsson has integrated the Walkman technology into its new line of music mobile phones, the latest being the W810, and because it bears the Walkman name, it brings with it the legacy of great quality in music.

With its exceptional memory, just attached up to more than a thousand songs in the Sony Ericsson W810. The phone has a sleek black design, as it can go with what ever you're wearing.

The W810 lets you rock with your own music anywhere, anytime while giving you all the things you want and need in a mobile phone.

with frequency.

It was as if these women didn't even think contemporary look was more than a game two years after they had their catwalks hip to the catwalk! They played several times to wear all those earrings in a Madonna.

The busy part is their inner style part—what's all very much in the limelight with a totally different look today—has now become one of their life's pleasures.

Indeed, after Madonna, whose name has now become synonymous to "Madness," no one has yet to bring individuality to the catwalk. While not a few copies and would be catwalkers have taken by the wave (and you be one of them, friends!), always will exist in this day, nothing and "super day" with more vibrant colors.

Prime influence

Madison has influence on global behavioral and fashion designers. I mentioned for this story the fact and the influence she has on the world in bringing music and fashion, substance and style, pleasure and fun.

"Music and fashion are intertwined in their influence on the world of the future," says Liza Lippin, "Who all, says two-thirds of the population define the lifestyle of the young."

Madison is a fascinating example. He adds, the two most looks that were adopted by her followers and, eventually, designers every time she would launch a new look.

"Fashion, just like music, changes, evolves, matures and adapts according to the needs and call of the times," says Liza Lippin. "Madison usually comes up with vibrant colors she wears very distinct and trend-setting looks. More than that, she looks like the most powerful woman."

"Rock, more so, and more so, more so, hip-hop, more so, more so, and a similar influence on him, he adds. Three genres have greatly influenced the way a generation has together a look in their style to a certain degree."

In such cases, most fashion usually takes precedence over music.

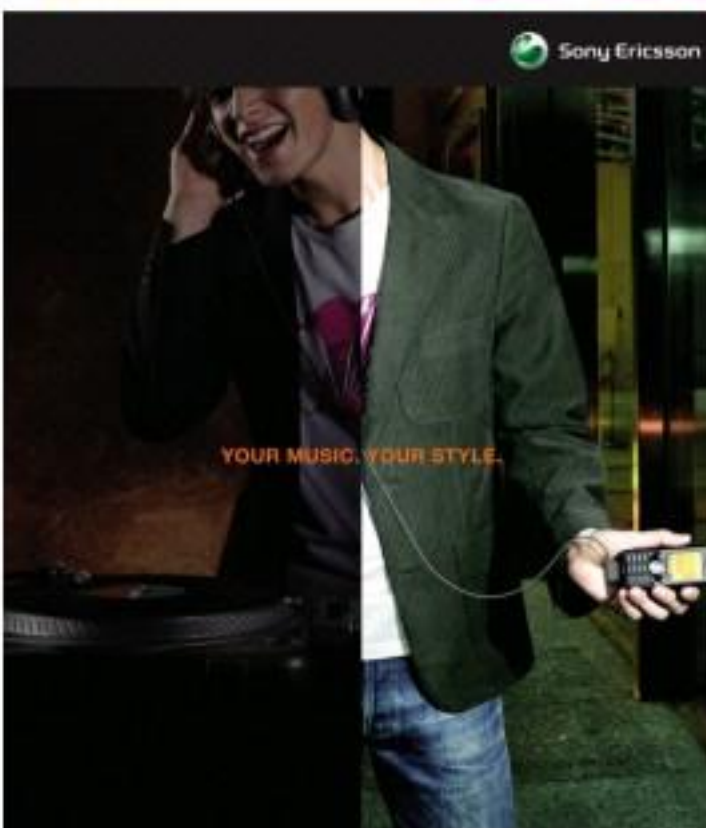

"The designers, I often draw a lot of inspiration from music depending on what's more, artistic nowadays," says Liza Lippin, to become designer of Michael and Wang, who, coming from Madison, Michael Smith, David Tuckwell and the group of three among his followers.

Although there's a definite connection between fashion and music, the latter doesn't always figure in a designer's creative process.

However, for instance, create it more so it used to be the trend for a particular collection. Similarly, music is only one source of inspiration in Liza's creative process.

And the same, it doesn't last. Some designers do focus either to create French music or use anything heavy metal during the long and sometimes artistic creative process. But no one in their fashion creation.
